

Contents

Foreword: Who Is Jazz? ix

George E. Lewis

Acknowledgments xxv

Sound Examples on the Accompanying CD xxix

Introduction 1

Goffredo Plastino and Philip V. Bohlman

PART I Place

- 1 Jazz and the Politics of Home in Scandinavia 51
Fabian Holt
- 2 Swinging in Balkan Mode: On the Innovative Approach of Milcho Leviev 79
Claire Levy
- 3 Azerbaijani Mugham Jazz 98
Inna Naroditskaya
- 4 Jazz and Its Social Meanings in Iran: From Cultural Colonialism to the Universal 125
Laudan Nooshin

PART II History

- 5 Jazz at the Edge of Empire 153
Philip V. Bohlman
- 6 That Gypsy in France: Django Reinhardt's Occupation Blouze 181
Andy Fry

- 7 Jazz, Race, and Politics in Colonial Portugal: Discourses
and Representations 200
Pedro Roxo and Salwa El-Shawan Castelo-Branco

PART III Media

- 8 Traveling Music: Mulatu Astatke and the Genesis of Ethiopian Jazz 239
Kay Kaufman Shelemay
- 9 The Medium Is the Message? Jazz Diplomacy and the Democratic Imagination 258
Richard C. Jankowsky
- 10 Musical Echoes: Diasporic Listening and the Creation of a World of South African Jazz 289
Carol Ann Muller

PART IV Globalization/Indigenization

- 11 Jazz Napoletano: A Passion for Improvisation 309
Goffredo Plastino
- 12 In Search of Compatible Virtuositities: Floating Point and Fusion in India 338
Niko Higgins
- 13 Improvising Diasporan Identities: Armenian Jazz 364
Anahid Kassabian

PART V Race

- 14 Culture, Commodity, Palimpsest: Locating Jazz in the World 381
Travis A. Jackson
- 15 A World(ly) Jazz Autonomy: Hazel Scott and Hollywood's
Racial-Musical Matrix 402
Kristin McGee
- 16 Black Music's Body Politics 429
Ronald Radano
- Epilogue: Jazz: Music of the Multitude? 445
Richard Middleton

Lyrics and Translations 473

Contributors 479

Index 483